

SCTS PEOPLE COMMITTEE REMIT

1. The SCTS People Committee supports the SCTS Board and Executive in their strategic decision making relating to staff resourcing, deployment, wellbeing and skills. By doing so the Committee helps ensure that SCTS fulfils its core functions as set out in the Judiciary and Courts (Scotland) Act 2008 and meets its statutory and other obligations as an employer.

2. The Committee scrutinises and advises the Executive in the discharge of people-related functions and may also be delegated specific matters for advice or decision by SCTS Board. While not exhaustive, key functions performed by the Committee include:

- Assessing and advising on key people policies and strategies;
- Scrutinising evidence (including relevant performance information) on levels of staff engagement, resourcing, deployment, morale, skills and qualifications;
- Assessing and reviewing key risks and issues which may impact on the ability of the SCTS to provide skilled and motivated staff now and in the future, and ensuring these are managed or mitigated effectively;
- Considering and advising the SCTS Board and/or Executive on consultations or proposals with significant potential implications for SCTS as an employer
- Ensuring that the SCTS meets its statutory obligations as an employer (with the exception of physical health and safety obligations which are covered by the Estates Committee).

3. The Committee provides advice on the strategic direction of SCTS people policies. Where significant changes to organisational policies are proposed it will review these in advance of formal consultation, particularly if the policy is likely to:

- Be contrary to the strategic direction for people matters as set out in the SCTS People Strategy; or
- Have a major financial impact that may require the Board to allocate additional funding not covered in the SCTS budget for the year; or
- Represent a significant change in the terms and conditions of employees that may have a consequence for organisational performance.

Less significant policy changes may be implemented by the Executive. The Committee will be notified of these to ensure awareness and to allow issues to be raised and discussed when considered appropriate.

4. The delegated responsibilities from the SCTS Board to the People Committee, are included within the SCTS Scheme of Delegation.

5. Day to day management of staff deployment, HR and associated matters is delegated to the Chief Executive and the delegated responsible Executive officers in line with responsibilities already agreed within the Scheme of Delegation.
